We will print out copies of the demand list at Redmond library to distribute to people just before the protest. If you're going to protest, let us know at least a day before so we can print out an extra copy for you. We will be protesting on Tuesday, March 5th. At 2pm we will gather outside across the street from the shelter, off the property line and visible to cars coming down the road.

I will shout "one client," and everyone else responds "one vote!" Repeat. Someone will be in charge of recording the protest so we can send the video to the local news stations. The recording should capture the "one client, one vote" chant, and maybe a short intro where we say what we're protesting, but no more. We keep the protest short and simple, no violence or rioting. After we film the "one client, one vote" chant, we call up people who want to voice their complaints about the rules of the shelter.

Everything should wrap up before we go back into the shelter at 3pm.
